

Home owner Statistical Information Release Consent Form

Thank you for participating in the Government of Canada's EnerGuide Rating Service (ERS). Your evaluator has been trained and is licensed by the Government of Canada to provide this service.

The Government of Canada, Natural Resources Canada (NRCan), developed and financially supports the ERS, which helps service organizations, provide the ERS to home-owners and builders.

By signing below you give permission for the data collected during this inspection to be provided to Natural Resources Canada (NRCan) and Efficiency New Brunswick for the purposes of statistical analysis. As well, by signing below you give permission to NRCan, who may contact you as part of their quality assurance procedure.

The sole purpose of the ERS is to assess the energy efficiency of new homes. It does not replace a home inspection nor will the ERS confirm compliance with the National Building Code or municipal regulations. The Government of Canada's licensed service organization for the delivery of the R-2000 Initiative and the EnerGuide Rating Service is the Canadian Home Builders' Association New Brunswick.
